Library Director

KATHLEEN GASKIN

I started my job at the Westbury Library in 1996, in the Adult Reference Department. From the outset, I have enjoyed serving the Westbury community. This included teaching patrons English in an ESL class – my first project here; then later on, my work in both the main Children's Library and the Satellite unit in the Park Avenue School, teaching children through storytimes and arts and crafts.

I am enthusiastic about providing a welcoming atmosphere, and encouraging the use of the Library as a safe haven, a place to make connections, and make use of the many available services. Over the years, I have enjoyed my relationships with the Westbury/Carle Place communities and neighborhood organizations; giving guidance or answers to patrons' research queries; ordering library books and materials; and providing readers' advisory services as they searched for their next exciting read.

My most endearing project is the Adult Library's book club. I cherish my rapport with this diverse group of loyal, steadfast men and women. We have even welcomed patrons from neighboring districts, steadily increasing the membership. We grow in knowledge and appreciation, discussing multi-cultural themes, and works by authors the world over.

Now, as the Head of the Reference Department, I lead my staff of multi-talented, industrious librarians in following the library's mission statement, continuing to provide excellent, proactive service, to fulfill patrons' informational, educational and recreational needs, while embracing technological change.

Adult Programming/Registration Most programs require registration. Please register for all in-house and virtual programs through EventKeeper. If having difficulties registering contact the Program Department at 516-333-0176.

Piri chicken is marinated in spices, pepper and oil and cooked on skewers or on the grill. To accompany these two dishes we will enjoy farofa (a grits-like dish), garlic collard greens, and/or either chick-pea salad or Brazilian potato salad with hearts of palm and chive aioli. We welcome back Pitmaster Brian Collins. A non-refundable fee of $10 is due July 7. Class limit 20.
